City of Lincoln Bikeways MASTER PLAN UPDATE

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What is the Bikeways Master Plan Update?

The Bikeways Master Plan Update (BMPU) is a planning document that will serve as a roadmap for completing bicycle projects in Lincoln. The update will evaluate current bike lanes and paths, identify areas of concerns or gaps in the network, and outline recommended improvements to create a safer, more connected network for people of all ages and abilities. The update will also help the City to prioritize projects that will best meet the community's current needs and compete for state and federal active transportation funding for future projects.

Why is the Bikeways Master Plan needed?

The Bicycle Transportation Plan was last updated in 2018. An update is not only required as part of the City's General Plan and California Streets and Highways Code, but it is also needed to address the community's growing needs, recent developments and annexations, and changes in the bicycle network. The BMPU will include a list of uncompleted projects from the 2018 Plan and provide the City with an updated Capital Improvement List for bicycle projects. The BMPU also enhances the City's eligibility for competitive grant funding to fund projects listed in the BMPU.

Who will develop this Plan?

The City of Lincoln has selected DKS Associates to support the technical and public engagement development of the BMPU. The BMPU project team of City staff and its consultant will lead this effort and working closely with the County, Placer County Transportation Planning Agency (PCTPA), local community groups, neighboring cities, and the greater Sacramento Region. The Plan is anticipated to be completed by June 2026.

How can I get involved?

Your feedback is essential to a successful Bikeways Master Plan Update! All community members are welcome to share their perspectives and help shape a plan that will encourage safe, well-connected bikeways for Lincoln. Community members are encouraged to share their insight at the project website (https://dks-engage.com/lincoln-bikeways). The project website includes an interactive map where people can leave location based comments and fill out a community survey online. The BMPU project team will host an in-person public workshop in May 2026 (date TBD) for the public to provide feedback on plan recommendations.
